

New-York, Oct. 28, 1840.

Mrs. Chapman:

Dear friend,

I sent you a proof of the Report by yesterday's mail, and not by Monday's, as I expected to do. If you have not re-mailed it before this reaches you, please return it in the Liberator bundle, if you find any errors. The Report and extracts from letters will make just two regular 18 mo. forms i. e. 36 pp., including the title. ~~and~~ If you have no other form to suggest, I intend to print a cover of suitable fancy paper. The first page, of course, will be occupied ^{with} the title - "Right and Wrong in the Anti-Slavery Societies" (the Report title page being included in the regular forms) - on the second (back of the title) I propose to put the list of officers - on the third, the resolutions - and on the last outside page, the vignette of the Standard, "Without concealment," &c. What do you say? Will the arrangement suit you? It is absolutely necessary to print a cover, ~~in case~~ as the "Right and "Wrong" title, the resolutions, &c. cannot be squeezed in to the 18 mo. forms. The matter will be made up on this plan before I can hear from you; but, if you deem it important, it can be changed.

C. C. Burleigh spoke before the Manhattan Society last evening. The audience was respectable in point of numbers, and the meeting went off well. We shall be able to rally a goodly company of faithful souls here before long. There are many who have not yet bowed the knee to the Baal of new organization. We mean to search them out, and bring the charred brands in contact.

The Standard of this week, I am sorry to say, contains only one article from Rogers, and that is the one which arrived too late for the previous number. A long series of notes on the Philanthropist's remarks respecting the London Conference was received just as we were going to press, and ~~must~~ of course lies over till another week. Relying with confidence upon his punctuality, I had neglected to prepare copies myself until it was too late to do ~~what~~ much that I should have done otherwise. The paper of this week, however, is sufficiently attractive ~~at~~ on the outside at least.

With kindest remembrances for your household, and for all the faithful.

Yours, in the patience of hope,
and the labor of love,

E. Johnson.
